Dr. Pelagia Ant. Stravakou is currently an Assistant Professor of School Pedagogy (Education) at the Department of Primary Education, Democritus University of Thrace. Dr. Stravakou completed her graduate and postgraduate studies in Philosophy and Pedagogy at the Department of Philosophy and Education, Faculty of Philosophy, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, in 1997 and 2000 respectively. She got her Ph.D. from the Department of Primary Education of Democritus University of Thrace in 2002. The title of her Doctoral Dissertation is "The organization and management of a school unit and the principal's contribution – Theoretical analysis and empirical approach". Dr. Stravakou jointed as a faculty member of the Department of Primary Level Education, Democritus University of Thrace, in 2003, first as a Lecturer with tenure. In June 2008 she was elected as Assistant Professor. She has published five books (2 as a main author and 3 as a co-author) and more than 40 papers in peer-reviewed journals or in conference proceedings and editorial volumes. Dr. Stravakou, among others, was also involved in editing several books and in the conduct of research programs. She has participated in numerous scientific conferences, meetings, and seminars; and she has been a member of many Organizational and Scientific Committees in Meetings, Conferences, and Symposia. She is currently a member of Editorial boards in various Greek and international scientific journals. Her work has been cited more than 300 times, mainly in the modern Greek pedagogical literature, and in the international literature, as well. Until now, she has supervised several bachelor and master theses as well as doctoral dissertations.
